JAPS BATTERED BY NEW DRIVE IN SOUTH CHINA

Troops and Planes Hammer Away To Reopen Old Burma Road.

By the Associated Press

From Burma in the west to the Salween river in the east, ground troops and air power hammered away at the Japanese in a determined offensive to reopen the old Burma road, and in northern China a third position on the Peiping-Hankow railroad has been recaptured by Chinese troops.

Chinese general news agency dispatches said the invaders are being counter-opposed in the ancient city of Loyang, west of the Peiping-Hankow railroad. The Japanese had been driven out of Loyang, but a second breakthrough occurred Monday.

Meanwhile, Claire Chennault's U. S. airforce pounded enemy communications blocking China's westward drive from Yunnan province and at the same time ranged far and wide to hit targets in the Yangtze river basin and far south in Thailand.

Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's American and Chinese jungle fighters sliced through a main road leading to the north Burma base of Kamaing and are tightening their pocket enclosing enemy troops in the Mogaung-Myitkyina area. Myitkyina is the terminus of a supply railroad from Mandalay.

Tighten Trap on Japs

A communique said the Chinese troops forced their way across the road directly south of Malakawa, further tightening a pocket around Japanese in that area. "The Japanese fought stubbornly and when forced back left numerous casualties and much equipment," the announcement said.

Meanwhile allied bombers and fighters struck the enemy's north Burma troops and gun positions north and west of Myitkyina in a gathering blow aimed at full extermination of the Japanese 18th division.

East of the Mogaung valley forward units of the Chinese 8th division fought through artillery fire and closed from the southeast on Warong in the Kumon hills. Other advances were reported in the Manpin area and west of the Mogaung valley. Allied troops driving due south toward Myitkyina continued to assault the entrenched enemy at Tiangzup, the communique said.

The communique added there had been no major activity around Kohima, Indian frontier post 65 miles north of Imphal, but said newly won positions have been consolidated under cover of patrol operations and now are firmly held.

"No counterattack has yet developed," the bulletin added.

Thundering aerial blows at two important Japanese bases highlighted the war in the Pacific. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced a 240-ton smash at isolated enemy troops on Jaluit atoll in the Marshall islands, possibly the prelude to an all-out campaign to exterminate Nipponese hopelessly cut off from their supply bases when American forces gained control of the Marshalls last February.

Kurile Island Hit

Other planes hammered away at Shumushu in the far-north Kurile islands and at Pulawat Atoll in the Carolines.

The 240-ton bombing occurred during the same 24-hour period that Nipponese on Dutch New Guinea were undergoing their third straight day of heavy aerial attack and others in the Kuriles were being hit by a single navy search plane.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, who has been announcing almost daily moderate air assaults on the few bases left to the Japanese in the mid-Pacific Marshalls, disclosed the unleashing of a terrific punch Sunday (Monday, Marshalls time) at long isolated Jaluit.

The raiders flew 284 sorties. They attacked as low as 50 feet, with Mitchells adding cannon fire and fighters machinegun strafing to the deadly work of the bombs. Anti-aircraft fire was encountered by anti-aircraft fire but all returned safely.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique today announced 200 more tons of bombs were added Sunday to the 550 tons dropped the previous two days on enemy defenses at Wakde island and the adjacent Dutch New Guinea coast, 150 miles northwest of Hollandia.

He also reported air blows for the 12th straight day in the Schouten islands, 250 miles beyond Hollandia, where Allied fighters emerged unscathed from a battle in which they shot down five of 20 enemy interceptors.

In the Kuriles, a navy search plane bombed Shimushu, northernmost of these islands, Sunday night (Monday night, Kuriles time).

STILL SILENT ON 4TH TERM

President Declines To Talk As Delegate Total Continues To Grow.

By The Associated Press

The Democratic party noted President Roosevelt's newest refusal to talk about future political plans today without slowing its strides toward the election of a fourth term supporting delegates in such numbers as to raise the possibility of a nomination by acclamation at the July Chicago convention.

Confronted with another opportunity to end the silence which has not deterred party leaders from predicting he would accept a "draft" nomination, the President jovially brushed aside at his news conference yesterday a request that he say something about the delegates being pledged to him.

Congressmen at White House

Mr. Roosevelt was advised that Reps. Johnson and Stigler, Oklahoma Democrats, had told newsmen he "didn't seem angry" when they called at the White House to say that Oklahoma's 22 convention votes had been sealed for a fourth term. Smilingly, the President said another incident had intervened and he had forgotten what they told him.

However, a South Carolina group opposing a fourth term competed today with a Roosevelt group for control of that state's convention, which will name delegates with 18 national convention votes.

There was no such move in Arkansas, where the Democratic state committee was called together to select delegates with 20 votes which are expected to be added to the total of 677 already pledged to support a fourth term.

On the Republican front a Vermont state convention met to pick nine delegates, with advance reports indicating several, if not all, would favor the nomination of Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Dewey's total of pledged and claimed delegates stood at 311, after the action of Montana Republicans yesterday in tying that state's group of eight to him.

Dewey won the support of New Jersey's 35 delegates in a primary

WOMAN CONFESSES MARYSVILLE ESCAPE

By The Associated Press

KALAMAZOO, Mich., May 17—Mrs. Martha Lucinda Motter, 44, of Kalamazoo, yesterday confessed she escaped from the Ohio reformatory for women at Marysville 14 years ago while serving a sentence for participating in a bank robbery, Police Chief Ralph Chapman said.

Mrs. Motter declared neither her husband, Myron, nor her 24-year-old daughter by a previous marriage knew of her prison record, Chapman said.

He reported that Mrs. Motter's indentity was revealed when she was fingerprinted a week ago after being charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

He said the woman was traced through FBI fingerprints and admitted she was "Mrs. Lucille Bleick" who served nine years at Marysville, escaping in 1930, one year before she would have been eligible for parole.

She will be turned over to Ohio authorities as a fugitive the police chief said.

George Ade, Noted Indiana Humorist, Is Stricken at 78

By The Associated Press

BROOK, Ind., May 17—George Ade, famed author and humorist whose literary career extended over half a century, died last night at the age of 78. He had been in a comatose condition since last Saturday when he suffered his third heart attack within a week.

Ade had been ailing for almost a year, suffering a stroke last June which caused him temporary paralysis of one arm and one leg.

The Hoosier author, who once said his father sent him to an engineering school to prepare him for a literary career, had played on the world's funnybone through several media — newspapers,

RATION BOARD CLERK HELD IN GAS THEFT

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 17—Robert A. Dissauer, clerk of Cuyahoga county's largest ration board, was charged in a federal warrant today with "feloniously purloining . . . 5,000 T (gasoline) ration coupons and a ration bank certificate representing 538,000 gallons of gasoline.

Assistant District Attorney Lee Howley said the charge resulted from an investigation by the federal bureau of investigation, police and office of price administration authorities of reports of defalcations of ration stamps at ration board No. 6. The warrant was sworn to by Rollin Childs, chief OPA gasoline rationing investigator.

The charge was filed under title 18, section 100 of the U. S. code, and charges "purloining of certain U. S. government property, to wit: 5,000 T ration coupons and a ration bank check representing 538,000 gallons."

Dissauer has been in custody since Monday, in connection with "irregularities" in ration stamp distribution, which police reported he admitted during questioning.

Informed of the federal action this morning, Common Pleas Judge Alva R. Corlett dismissed a habeas corpus action which Dissauer's attorney had filed.

Meanwhile Detective Inspector Frank W. Story declared OPA and office of defense transportation officials may be involved in some of the transactions of coupons by the board, which may involve the theft of a million gallons of gasoline.

DETROIT STRIKE IS CALLED OFF

Action Taken Shortly After Walkout Is Criticized by General Arnold.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 17—The leadership of the Foremen's Association of America called off a strike today at 13 Detroit war plants, which General H. H. Arnold had termed "one of the most serious setbacks the air force has had since its inception," and, if continued, might enable the German air force to "recover just when it is reeling under our blows."

DETROIT, May 17—The outcome of a long struggle by the Foreman's Association of America to gain recognition as a bargaining agent for supervisory plant employes lay at stake today as top officials of the union engaged in a showdown battle with the war labor board over a series of strikes responsible for the idleness of nearly 50,000 war workers in the Detroit area.

Only 3,300 foremen are striking, but idleness of production workers created by their walkout already has reached a ratio of more than ten-to-one.

The exact total idle because of the foremen's dispute could not be determined since the Hudson Motor Car Co. announced only that it was shutting down "some of its assembly lines" today and did not make known the number of employes affected.

Claiming they were acting with the approval of army officers, Hudson officials said the shutdown was "because of the unauthorized absence of certain supervisors."

Their action followed by only a few hours the closing of the Briggs Manufacturing Co. Mack avenue plant, which management attributed to the refusal of the Navy's bureau of aeronautics to accept any more of its output. Nearly 10,000 Briggs employes were involved.

What effect these two latest shutdowns will have on the position of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), which represents production workers at both plants, remains to be seen. UAW-CIO officials have protested to the WLB and the war department that 35,000 employes have been kept from their "important defense jobs" at the Packard Motor Car Co. because of the company's dispute with the independent foremen's union. The Packard plant has been closed since last Friday.

President Robert H. Keys and the ten-man executive board of the foremen's union were summoned by the WLB to Washington to "show cause why the board should not immediately take all steps necessary to invoke the sanctions and penalties provided by the war labor disputes act and the executive orders of the President."

General Arnold Raps Detroit Strike

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 16—General H. H. Arnold testified today the Detroit foremen's strike was "one of the most serious setbacks the air force has had since its inception" and, if continued, might enable the German air force to "recover just when it is reeling under our blows."

Arnold, chief of the United States army air force, told a war labor board hearing on the strike it might require him to change his time-table for destruction of

ILLNESS FATAL TO E. H. COWAN EARLY TODAY

Marion Realtor and Former Water Co. Superintendent Stricken; Rites Saturday.

Edward H. Cowan, 70, of 331 South State street, widely known Marion realtor, former superintendent of the Marion Water Co. and a veteran of World War I, died of a heart ailment at 2:30 a. m. today in the City hospital. In failing health for the last two years following a stroke of paralysis, he suffered a heart attack four weeks ago and two weeks ago was removed to the hospital for treatment.

Mr. Cowan came to Marion in 1900 as an employe of the Marion Water Co. and with the exception of nine years spent as a construction engineer and a representative of a construction company, made his home here since that time. He was interested in the business, civic and community life of the city and until his illness two years ago was actively affiliated with a number of organizations.

Native of Maine

A native of Orono, Me., where he was born June 3, 1873 to Kilborn and Amanda Jane Brown Cowan, also natives of Maine, he was married to Maude Myers Stoltz in Marion on Sept. 10, 1902. She preceded him in death Sept. 9, 1943.

Mr. Cowan's professional career took him through the east and in many of the western states, and he spent nine months in France with Co. B of the 24th Engineers. He was graduated from Maine university at Orono, Me., in 1894 with the degree of civil engineer and his first work after leaving college was as an inspector for the construction of a railroad through Boston.

Later he was a surveyor for the laying of the second track of the Union Pacific railroad through Nebraska and other western states. In 1906, after being associated with the Marion Water Co. for six years, Mr. Cowan took a position as a drainage construction engineer, working in Minnesota, Iowa and Illinois. Following this he went to Cleveland where he was the representative of a construction firm, traveling mostly through the south.

Managed Water Company

Mr. Cowan returned to Marion in 1915 to take over the superintendency of the Marion Water Co., a position he held until the outbreak of World War I when he enlisted for service and took his officer's training at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. Upon the completion of his training he was commissioned a captain in the engineer corps and left for overseas duty. At the close of the war he was discharged with the commission of major.

The Cowan Realty Co. was established by Mr. Cowan in 1919 and for four years he served as agent of the Sun Life Assurance Co. and also was an appraiser of this district for H. O. L. C. In addition to carrying on his real estate activities. Because of ill health Mr. Cowan discontinued many of his activities in recent years. He formerly was a member of the Kiwanis club for many years, the City Planning commission, the Marion Chamber of Commerce and the Real Estate Board. He served as secretary of the Real Estate board for a number of years and at the time he was stricken two years ago was serving as president of the organization.

Funeral Saturday

Surviving are three children, Mrs. Stephen B. Haines of Clarksville, Ark., Miss Eleanor Cowan at home, and Richard S. Cowan of 343 Pearl street, five grandchildren, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary C. Hays of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Jennie Moloney of Orona, Me.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a. m. Saturday in the First Presbyterian church of which Mr. Cowan was a member. The pastor, Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, will officiate and burial will be made in the Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue after 5 p. m. Thursday until 10 a. m. Saturday, and at the church from 10 a. m. until the funeral hour.

FRENCH IN SPECTACULAR SMASH. Battle-hungry French forces, given their first big chance to strike for liberation, have taken the spotlight in the big Italian offensive by striking westward from Castelforte (1) in an assault on Mt. Maio, capturing the important town of Ausonia; cutting off the only road through the valley and breaching the Nazi Gustav line, from which defenders are reported falling back. To the south (2) Americans have smashed the enemy out of Santa Maria Infante and northward, indicated by small arrows, the British 8th Army reports continued gains.

TROOPS DRIVE BEHIND LONG BESEIGED CITY

Hundreds of Guns Pour Hail of Steel Into Nazis in Monastery.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, May 17 — British units drove northward into the Liri valley toward highway No. 6 behind Cassino today and the fall of that stronghold at last appeared imminent.

Front line dispatches said crack German parachute troops which long had defended that bloody bastion appeared in danger of winding up their careers in the forsaken town.

The Germans have been thrown out of most of their positions across the pillbox and gun-studded Liri valley in swirling tank battles and the entire Gustav line south of that avenue toward Rome has been overrun, Allied headquarters announced.

Hundreds of British guns opened up this afternoon and sent thousands of rounds of shells screaming into the Benedictine monastery above Cassino.

For sheer concentration of shelling, the barrage probably surpassed that of Thursday night when the Allies opened their offensive with the greatest hail of explosives yet seen on the Mediterranean theater or in western Europe in this war.

The bursting shells could not be seen as a low haze which has hung over the battlefield for days persisted.

The monastery, once wrecked by a heavy Allied air bombardment, could not be seen from the valley floor.

The communique reported the Americans and French were charging forward to "gain contact with the Adolf Hitler line," now roughly four and a half miles ahead of the French who are wiping out the remaining enemy south of the Liri river.

The French continued their spectacular advance, driving two and a half miles southwest from San Giorgio in the southern part of the Liri valley against determined resistance.

Other French forces moving westward from Ausonia seized elevations two and a half miles south of Esperia and prepared an assault on that apparently doomed town.

Many Prisoners Taken

The 90th Panzer grenadier division—one of the most famous of Marshal Erwin Rommel's Afrika Korps, which was reformed after the bulk of its veterans were lost in Africa—also was thrown into the fight ahead of the Hitler line and lost many prisoners.

The enemy has been cleared from the area south of Pignataro and the bridgehead over the Rapido now is 5,000 yards deep.

Although heavy bombers were grounded by the weather yesterday for the second successive day, the Mediterranean air forces managed to fly 1,800 sorties in support of ground operations. Medicinos attacked Piombino harbor and the Voltri shipyards while light bombers and fighters continued their blistering attacks on gun positions, troops, roads, bridges and motor transport in the battle area. Last night RAF Wellingtons continued the assault, hitting Piombino again as well as Santo Stefano on the Italian west coast and Portoferraio on the isle of Elba.

Program Set for Last 2 Days of Victory Volunteer Drive

Marion's Victory Volunteer worker drive swung into its final two days this morning, boosted by a turnout of 250 at last night's neighborhood show at Edison Junior High and by a crowd of more than 2,000 viewing the Army exhibit at the Danner Buick garage on West Center street.

Tonight's show will be at 7:30 in Central Junior High school auditorium with William Ehrick, plant superintendent of the Huber Manufacturing Co., presiding. An extra film, "A Battle in Brittany," has been added to the program, making the running time about two hours.

Because of the unexpected large turnout at the Army exhibition arrangements have been made for the Danner garage doors to be opened at 8 a. m. instead of noon. Closing hour will be the same, 9 p. m.

Final showing of the films will be at Silver Street school tomorrow night at 7:30. Thursday is also the last day of the exhibition and final reports of the house-to-house canvass probably will be available.

Response to the call for workers has resulted in a large number of applications being received at the employment office, drive leaders reported.

Lt. Charles Plotkin, guest speaker on previous programs, was called away suddenly and Carrol W. Davidson, president of the Central Labor Union, substituted last night for the Edison program. He spoke on labor's interest in the present drive. He explained that 75 per cent of the members of the armed forces come from families of industrial employes and for that reason the workers have a very personal interest in getting the war over and getting their boys back safely and quickly. He continued by saying that industries have large scale contracts which must be met if the companies are to continue in war production. Local industries have been seriously handicapped because of the lack of manpower and this drive is being conducted to relieve the shortage with local employes if possible.

BERLIN IS BOMBED BY RAF MOSQUITOS

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 17—RAF Mosquito bombers blasted Berlin last night, the air ministry announced today, as the British-based heavy bomber fleets rested up for a renewal of their smashing offensive against fortress Europe.

The raid, which was carried out without loss, was the first attack on Berlin since the night of May 9, when a great fleet of approximately 750 British bombers smashed at both the German capital and Paris. Last night's attack was carried out despite bad weather.

Britain, meanwhile, had a raid free night as the German air force remained at home after two successive sharp night stabs at the English south coast.

There was no indication of activity over the continent today as the weather, which has brought a lull in the allied aerial offensive, continued poor.

Allied operations yesterday were restricted to offensive sweeps by fighters during which one squadron of Canadia[illegible] bagged seven enemy planes over northern Germany. A Nazi glider plane was reported [illegible]

Doors Opened By More Churches as Invasion Nears

Among churches opening doors for prayer as the invasion of Europe approaches, as indicated by pastors today, are St. Paul's Episcopal, Salem Evangelical and Reformed, First United Brethren and Second Pilgrim Holiness.

Recently special prayer books for the wartime use of the people of St. Paul's church were placed in the pews continuing the policy of many years' standing of encouraging use of the church at all times for meditation and prayer, Rev. S. S. Hardy, rector of St. Paul's, stated. In March national and state authorities of the Episcopal church sent messages to the clergy recommending, "in view of the nearness of invasion," encouragement of use of the churches for individual prayer and group intercession for God's blessing on the Armed forces, for success of the invasion and for an "early, honorable and lasting peace."

Church officials of the Salem congregation voted recently to open the doors of the church for prayer at the imminence of invasion. Rev. H. C. Ahrens announced.

Second Pilgrim church will be open for prayer the day of invasion and a special prayer service will be held that night, Rev. Albert M. Hood, pastor, stated.

First U. B. church is now open and will be open continuously through the invasion for prayer, Rev. Garrison Roebuck stated today.

ABOUT ANYTHING

In and Around Marion

Man's New Role

With so many wives working now, a good portion of the housecleaning falls on the broad shoulders of the male members of the menage. We sat in on a conference the other night between such workers and it reminded one of those radio skits where the men talk as women do, remember? One of the industrious males leaned back and started the ball rolling with, "Well I'm about finished with the wall paper cleaning, soon be all done now. Washing down the bathroom walls was the toughest part. That was really hard on me." Another chimed in with "Don't tell me you are all done, but if the nose and mouth through, we're just getting a good start and curl slightly toward the eyebrows and the chunk goes slowly—then it's for that morning after breakfast ... [illegible] ... washing around [illegible]

They All Stayed

Talking about the delay the other night we were more to reminisce about decades ago before the light the most of the projects and hardships were at the rural section. The office force waited and waited and finally sent some one over. The first one stayed and another had to go after him and he stayed. When the second failed to return, numbers three and four were sent. After enough time had elapsed and it was plain those were coming back, they lowered up and went home. Seems there was a bit of a celebration going on.

Face Watching

You can nearly always tell when a person asks for a promo whether he is taking it for a headache or a morning after by the expression on the watching the expression on the druggist's face. If it goes down in a hurry like he can't wait for the effect to start, it's for a head-ache, but if the nose and mouth part, we're just getting a good start and curl slightly toward [illegible] won't be done for days yet. Other comments were passed back and forth regarding the relative merits of cleaners and methods used until we wondered just how were the results in the respective families. Sounded as if the wives were left out of spring cleaning altogether.

Building Tops

Do you ever notice the tops of business buildings in downtown districts? We become conscious of them when traveling in one of those high buses. In fact they grew to be of more interest than the myriads of people swarming on the streets. The first thing we noticed was the wide variety of styles of architecture. Many of the buildings are ornamented with scrolls, columns, and contrasting colors of masonry. Some are ugly and show the influence of Victorianism at its worst. Others, more modern, are plain but still not attractive. Occasionally there are newer buildings more graceful in design. Rarer are the very old stone and brick tops which have been allowed to remain when the bottom front has been renovated. When we see these old ones we try to imagine how the building must have looked originally and what kind of businesses or homes it has sheltered. We strongly recommend this inexpensive hobby of getting acquainted with the top fronts of buildings. We can see you now gazing up as you walk along the street. But do be careful. Stubbed toes can result in smashed noses.

Service Mail

Discussing the "boys out yonder," (and who doesn't) one Marion mother told us she doesn't type her letters to her sons any more, they are all written in long hand for even if they are shorter the boys say they look better to them. "The letters are really something from 'Mom' and not from a machine," they write. Packages, too came in for a discussion, and from her boys she learns that some of the fellows receive packages beaten to shreds, due to faulty wrapping. "Wouldn't it be nice," she said, "if there was some place where people could learn how to fix the packages up so they will travel around the world and arrive in good condition?"

Mason-Dixon Line

Evidence that the Mason-Dixon line is still very definitely an international boundary is found in many stories coming from Marion boys at service camps where northern and southern boys are stationed together. The southerners razz each other unmercifully, always at the expense of the Yankees. One Texan stationed at an Eastern training school says he can't understand why Texas ever let the United States join up with it and insists that he is entitled to foreign duty pay while he is at the eastern school.

In a problem on a navigation exam some mention was made of fog in Tampa Bay. A boy from Florida refused to work the problem because he said, "Theah nevah is any fog on Tampa Bay."

Juvenile Workers

The younger generation is certainly doing its bit to relieve the shortage of help. Take a look at the soda fountains around town. One Marion Super-Market that has employed boys for some time to help sack and carry out groceries, seems to be getting them younger and younger. Customers were amused to see one lad about as big as a minute, wearing a white coat at least six sizes too large for him, proudly putting the basket carts back in their places in line.

Sure Sign

Maybe summer isn't here yet, but one of the surest indications that summer weather is here, whether the calendar agrees or not. It is the melting of the asphalt cover on the streets.

Marion Co. Booster

Appreciation for describing the beauties of Marion county were received by The Star recently from Marine Pfc. Clifford E. Hazen, stationed in California. Reminded of his home county when he saw an item in this column entitled "A Good Place to Live" in which everyday scenes were described, he was prompted to write this letter. "I just want to write a few words on this article in your paper which I received way out here in California. I used to take all those scenes for granted when I was back home. It sure brought back memories to us boys in service. This (California) is beautiful country and the climate isn't half bad, but give me spring, winter and fall in good old Marion county. Thanks again for reminding people about their own surroundings."

Leg Make-Up

Two Marion mothers were in perfect agreement the other morning on the bus. Subject was leg make-up. One looked her thoroughly, "I raised all a stir about my daughter wearing bobby sox but now I wish to heaven she would, even if she left them in the middle of the living room. Now that awful leg make-up is splattered over the bathroom all the time"—the other mother nodded and broke in with—"Yes and smeared on every towel and washrag in the room."

tion, whether it be the belief of a world upheaval, war and destruction, or one of sin, disease, and lack claiming presence in individual human experience, is the result, the outward manifestation, of wrong thinking, of the material thinking referred to by Paul when he said, 'To be carnally minded is death.' And in the same statement he gives the antidote for this carnal-mindedness and its effects: 'But to be spiritually minded is life and peace.' Yes, my friends, spiritual thinking, which has its source in God, divine Mind, expresses His omnipotent power and heals and saves mankind.

"In her textbook, 'Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures,' Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science and the Leader of its movement, writes (p. 131), 'The central fact of the Bible is the superiority of spiritual over physical power.' And today mankind is sadly in need of this heartening assurance, for world events of recent years have left many sincere Christian people confused and blindly groping, asking why God permits such things as tyranny and aggression, war and destruction, sin, disease, and death, if He is, and if He is omnipotent. Failing to arrive at a reasonable answer, many have had their faith in God sadly shaken, while some have taken the position that these things could not happen if there really is a God and have become atheists. Others have endeavored to gain some comfort from the fallacious and wholly unsatisfactory reasoning that this is God's method of chastening men and making them better.

Evil a Powerless Dream

"Here Christian Science comes to the rescue with its demonstrable teaching that God is, that He is omnipotent good, divine Love, that He does not send evil to afflict or to chasten, and that He does not permit evil to exist, to be, arrive or to have power. Of course, this is quite contrary to what seems to be going on around us; but would it not be a glorious thing, would you not shout for joy, if you were to awaken and find this to be merely a bad dream, and the sickness, sin, or lack claiming presence in your individual experience also to be merely a bad dream!

"Well, my friends, you can start shouting for joy right now, for all of these things exist only as a bad dream, a mesmeric state of human consciousness, from which you and I can awaken and from which we can be delivered. For Christian Science reveals to us the Christ, the true idea of God, which today as in Jesus' time breaks this mesmerism of mortal belief, awakens men to righteousness, or right thinking, and sets them free. The Mind 'which was also in Christ Jesus' cannot be mesmerized, and as we let this Mind be in us, as we reflect it, false mesmeric beliefs are wiped out of individual human consciousness, and we come to know as God knows. We become conscious as He is conscious; and He is not conscious of tyranny, aggression, sin, sickness, death, war and destruction, nor of man as their hopeless victim. In Genesis we read, 'And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good.' It is still very good, my friends and God is still seeing it as very good.

The True Nature of God

"The Scriptures define God as Spirit, Truth, Life, and Love. Through divine revelation, Mrs. Eddy has given us three other terms for Deity: Principle, Mind, and Soul, all of which are clearly implied in the Bible. These seven terms are synonymous, all referring to one absolute God. They are highly important, because through them we are able to understand His nature. Thus by the term Principle we know God as cause, including and governing its every effect; by Mind, we know Him as infinite intelligence, the source of all ideas; by Spirit, we know Him as infinite, indivisible substance; by Soul, we know Him as sinless, divine consciousness; by Life, we know Him as the source of all being, harmonious and immortal; by Truth, we know him as immutable and absolute; and by Love, we know Him as the source of all blessedness, constantly blessing His infinite ideas by holding them at the standpoint of perfection.

"All will admit that the great First Cause, the governing Principle of the universe, the one God, must be intelligent, what can be intelligent, what can know, but Mind? Most people believe that God knows all, and so is infinitely intelligent. But infinite intelligence necessitates an infinite Mind, and infinite Mind can be possessed by nothing but itself. Hence God does not have a mind, but is Mind. As we read on page 469 of Science and Health: 'Mind is God. The exterminator of error is the great truth that God, good, is the only Mind, and that the suppositious opposite of infinite Mind—called devil or evil—is not Mind, is not Truth, but error, without intelligence or reality.' This, my friends, is the basis on which we demonstrate the availability and supremacy of divine power—the allness of divine Mind and the nothingness of whatever does not emanate from or reflect Him.

"Divine Mind, God, is omnipotent, hence all real power is mental, that is, spiritually mental.

"True knowledge, or the spiritual understanding of reality, of God and His universe, is power in fact, it is the only power. This understanding is true intelligence, which is defined in Science and Health (p. 469) as follows: 'Intelligence is omniscience, omnipresence, and omnipotence. It is the primal and eternal quality of infinite Mind, of triune Principle,—Life, Truth and Love, named God.' Infinite Mind, God, possesses all intelligence, all power, and this power is wholly good. It is creative, constructive, protective; but to evil destructive."

Heroic Mansfield Flier Gives Life To Save Crewmen

By The Associated Press

A U. S. BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, May 11—(Delayed)—The bodies of a heroic pilot and co-pilot who sacrificed their lives so their companions might bail out from an exploding and blazing Liberator bomber probably are buried with its wreckage in a bottomless marsh along the English coast, fellow officers said today.

The two who went down with the plane were Pilot Lt. James S. Munsey of Norman, Okla., a former University of Oklahoma football player, and co-pilot Lt. Robert O. Crail of Mansfield, O. They have been recommended for posthumous decorations.

Racing in at 250 miles an hour in a desperate attempt to reach land, the bullet-riddled "Cee Gee Second" plunged so deep into quicksand in the marsh that only her tail section, which broke off, was recovered.

There was one chance in a million that the pilot and co-pilot might have bailed out and drifted out to sea, but it is believed they went into the quicksand with the bomber. No hope was held that their bodies or the remainder of the plane ever will be found.

In all, five men died and five survived the dramatic flight which ranks with the epics of the Eighth U. S. airforce in the European theater.

While returning from a raid, several Liberators were attacked by German fighters only 15 miles off the English coast. Twenty-millimeter cannon fire raked "Cee Gee Second" from nose to stern.

Tailgunner Sgt. Ralph McClure of Washington, D. C., was knocked out in his turret and waistgunner Sgt. John McKinney of Dickinson, Tex., was mortally wounded. One engine caught fire.

Although flames swept into their compartment, the two pilots calmly urged the great bomber to greater speed so the men could bail out over land. If they had dropped into the channel in the dark they would have had little chance of being found.

The flames trapped five crewmen in the flight deck. One of them, Sgt. Grover G. Conway of Nitro, W. Va., topturret gunner, lumped up and down on jammed bomb bay doors to force open their only means of escape. As they finally swung open a gasoline tank exploded and the five men jumped out through a wall of flame.

Treaties' OK By Entire Congress Is Favored in Survey

By GEORGE GALLUP
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., May 17—North Carolina Democratic convention recently adopted a plank in its platform calling for a Constitutional amendment to allow for ratification of treaties by a majority vote of both branches of congress, was reflecting a belief by an increasing majority of the American people.

The number of voters who believe the best method of ratifying treaties is by approval of two-thirds in both the house and senate instead of by the present method of a majority of the senate—is today 60 per cent, as compared to 54 per cent in a similar poll published last October.

The issue was put to a cross-section of voters throughout the nation as follows:

"When the war is over, it will be necessary for the Allies to agree on peace terms for Europe. Which one of these three ways would you, personally, favor as the best way to have peace treaties approved after the war?"

The three alternatives from which those interviewed chose are listed, with a tabulation of their replies:

	October	Today
Approval Only by the President	7%	7%
Approval by President and a majority of whole congress	54	60
Approval by President and two-thirds of senate	25	19
Don't know	14	14

Surgical Dressing Workers Are Needed To Meet Large Quotas

Women volunteer workers, whose nimble fingers and unlimited patience enable them to spend long hours in making surgical dressings to be used in caring for the wounded service men, have a new challenge with the arrival recently at Red Cross headquarters of new shipments which bring Marion's quota to 154,200 dressings to be made up immediately.

The women have been generous with their time and work, Mrs. Richard Lawson, chairman of the Red Cross surgical dressing committee said today, but with the arrival of the new quotas more workers are urgently needed, and immediately, if the work is to be completed, she states.

Quotas Increased

The fact that the National Red Cross has asked Marion and other cities to take on the additional work by increasing their quotas means only one thing, the need for the dressings is drastic. With the anticipated invasion practically at the zero hour, it is pointed out that surgical dressings will be needed in countless numbers, and Marion's quota, as well as the others must be finished on time.

While this is the largest quota the local chapter has ever received — heretofore the quotas have been around 18,000 a month —Mrs. Lawson believes that the women of the city will rally to the cause and complete the work in ample time for shipping. While the dressings have always been shipped in waterproof containers, a change has been made in these regulations and shipments are now packed so as to be floated to shore instead of being unloaded directly from the ships.

Slacks Days

In response to a question as to what periods the workers are needed mostly, Mrs. Lawson stated that the attendance at the surgical dressings center in the Elks' building is smallest on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons.

Any woman who can spend a few hours on these afternoons will not only be helping the local surgical dressings committee in getting out the work but also will be doing something that will help relieve the suffering and perhaps save the lives of men in our fighting forces.

Work begins at 1:15 p. m. and women are asked to be on time. Registrations are taken at the surgical dressings center in the Elks building.

Hardin County Farmers Want Clocks Turned Back

KENTON, May 17—Kenton city council today considered a petition from this county's farmers, asking that the city be returned to Ohio, or slow, time because of the hardships the fast time imposes on the agriculturist.

Pointing out that farmers must of necessity cease work far ahead of darkness if they are to arrive in Kenton in time to do necessary shopping, the petitioners said the move would materially aid farmers in producing more food.

He may not go in with the first wave . . . but he keeps stepping on their heels . . .

For the shells are still whining overhead, and enemy strafing planes are still churning the beachhead sands with machine gun bullets, when G. I. Joe, of the Army Service Forces, starts hustling in the supplies . . . tanks, guns, jeeps, shells, ammunition, medicines, food.

There's nothing glamorous about this work-horse job . . .

But it's helping win a war for Uncle Sam!

Because whether it's from beachhead to firing line . . . or from factory to embarkation port . . . the transportation of fighting equipment is one of the war's biggest jobs.

And as our armies move closer to Tokyo and Berlin, that job will grow constantly bigger with each advancing step.

We of the railroads already know how big our part of it is. We know that, in spite of growing manpower shortages, we must meet in full the increasing transportation demands of the armed forces—no matter how great they become.

And we know that this will call for even closer cooperation between the railroads and the shippers and receivers of freight.

And to those of you who plan to travel by rail, we urge once again that you first consider whether your trip is essential.

For you and we and G. I. Joe are agreed that the best and only way to end this terrible war is to get it over with as fast as we can. And only by working together can we get this great job done.

They will recover [illegible] of Northern some of the [illegible] taken from them ignominiously by the collapse of [illegible] and the unwholesome outcropping of treachery in their midst. They will summon French dignity and, when they have recovered it, they will guard it closely.

It is no secret that United States troops in Italy have found it hard sometimes to understand their part in the grand strategy of World war II. That would not be the case with any Frenchman given a chance to meet the enemy on Italian soil. Italy's declaration of war on France on June 10, 1940, was one of history's most infamous betrayals; four days later, the Germans entered Paris without opposition.

Whatever territory fighting Frenchmen can win in Italy, or anywhere else in the battle to drive back the Germans from occupied territory, is even less important than the restoration of the spirit of their once great nation.

Schools in Wartime

FEW activities have faced more wartime problems than the schools and especially the colleges and universities of the nation.

As the age of the pupils decreases, the troubles grow less. In elementary schools it is largely a matter of teacher shortage and an increase in work outside the normal school curriculum involving such things as paper and scrap collection, school gardens and the like.

In high schools the situation begins to become troublesome as male teachers have donned uniforms leaving gaps which were hard to fill and as the draft board reached out for some of the older pupils.

The colleges have been hit hardest because most of their expected pupils are in service. They were kept going during the early part of the war by groups of service men assigned to them for training but most of these courses have been abandoned.

The education of these youths, whose school work has been interrupted, will be one of the major problems when peace comes and plans have been prepared for meeting the situation through a wise and generous provision for financing the continued schooling of service men who want to go on with their studies after they return home.

Because of this condition, summer schools take on added importance. They give teen age youths a chance to carry additional studies so they will be better prepared to resume their place when they come home. With the work they can do in this way while waiting their draft call and with the opportunities offered for study while in service, many of them can take up where they left off with not too much of a break in their school life.

After-Thought on Sunburn

AS SPRING moves along inexorably toward the summer solstice on June 21, when the sun pours down its theoretical maximum of energy in this zone, progress can be measured by the color of the sun worshippers. The recent clear days have left them seated, but there is worse to come. Unlike the scientists who deal in the phenomenon of solar radiation, the worshippers never fully respect the potentialities of the center of the solar system in relation to their tender skins.

One lone fact, if borne in mind, might spare the worshippers some of their suffering. The sun is estimated to radiate in ergs 3.79x10 raised to the 33rd power every second. An erg is the energy used in overcoming a resistance to one dyne over a distance of one centimeter. A dyne is the force needed to make a gram attain a velocity of one centimeter per second. Yet, of all this energy, only one part in 120 million reaches all the component parts of the solar system. If it were two parts, instead of one, sun worshippers would fry to a crisp, which is something for them to think about the next time they are so minded.

The Story of Blood Plasma

PRECIOUS PLASMA: Many live who once would die.

By SCHUYLER ALLMAN
Associated Press Writer

IN A St. Louis laboratory, a [illegible] surrender to bacteria [illegible] was methodically drying vegetables.

The year was 1909. The scientist was Dr. J. F. Shackell of the Wistar Institution University School of Medicine. The pallid tomato was a freezing unit and a vacuum.

Remember this name, Shackell with his new method of preserving vegetables while we skip a few years to World War I.

American surgeons, brandishing flasks of human blood in a solution of sodium citrate, descended on the battlefields of France saving thousands of lives with a new transfusion technique.

The approved but cumbersome and difficult method was transfusion direct from donor to patient, because no one knew how to store blood without clotting. Sodium citrate did it.

Medical experimenters found in 1936 that blood plasma, the part remaining after red cells are removed, could be used instead of whole blood in some transfusions.

The reason plasma was used was that some saving soul, knowing that his donated blood in the hospital was about to spoil, drew off the plasma and tried it out.

Experiment showed it could be given to any one regardless of blood type—patients can receive whole blood only from donors with a suitable type — and it would keep much longer than donated blood.

When World War II broke, research in all countries was racing after an easy way to get plasma to battlefields, for it could be preserved only at regulated temperatures and took up a lot of precious shipping space.

The laboratories remembered Dr. Shackell and his dried vegetables. They also remembered he had dried some blood serum.

So they borrowed his dehydrating methods, took liquid plasma, froze it, put it in a high vacuum and dried off the moisture.

The dried product took less shipping space, needed no regulated temperature, and when mixed with sterile water is ready to use on the battlefield if necessary.

Invaluable in treating wounds, plasma also has been mixed with sulfanilamide to cure severe burns rapidly.

Implications of widespread use of plasma are enormous. Red blood cells left after plasma is extracted, for example, have produced promising results in treating anemia.

Medicine has indeed traveled far since the seventeenth century, when great physicians still were solemnly prescribing bleeding in treatment of battlefield wounds.

Experts Will Doctor Europe

By Hudson Phillips
Associated Press Writer

AS Allied soldiers stand ready for the assault on continental Europe for the greatest military showdown in history, economists are completing plans for doctoring sick European countries which have undergone more than four years of German plunder.

The picture isn't pleasant. Businessmen and industrialists in occupied Europe have seen the Nazis destroy pillar after pillar which once upheld strong economic structures. Restoration of the crumbling remains won't be rapid nor easy.

Late official records are lacking. But from department of commerce files and reports from foreign correspondents in neutral countries, this is the latest on the situation military governments and economic consultants will find on their hands:

FRANCE: Besides being systematically looted by the Nazis, she probably has borne the brunt of allied bombings in occupied countries.

Raw materials grew progressively scarce after France's fall in June, 1940, and shortages of transportation and communications reduced chances for recovery. Critically short at times were coal, motor fuel, foodstuffs, electric power output, textiles and steel.

Lack of fertilizers, machinery fuels, draft animals and adverse crop weather curtailed agricultural output. As France faced famine, substantial black market food operations added to her plight. Some wholesale prices were reported up about 175 per cent from 1939.

BELGIUM: One of the smallest states in Europe, she suffered under German domination almost as much as any other country—along with the Netherlands—reputedly was the worst-fed of all, except Greece.

After invasion on May 10, 1940, the Nazis flooded the country with "occupation" marks—used only for circulation within Nazi-occupied areas and not as legal tender in Germany.

Reduced production hit industries using wheat, milk, soap, animal and vegetable oils, greases, certain medicines, some chemicals and rubber.

Since the little country normally produced no more than 50 per cent of her food needs and only about 25 per cent of cereal grain consumption, the food situation soon became critical. Supplies of bread, butter and meat also disappeared while milk was available only to infants.

DENMARK: Although probably suffering less than other occupied nations, a sharp decline in production followed German occupation on April 9, 1940. Shortages cropped up in products like motor fuel, cement and coal. Rail traffic was curtailed about 50 per cent.

Food was in more liberal supply than in most European countries (including Germany) because farmers continued to depend on their own efforts. Bread was rationed, however, and output of milk, butter and eggs was about 50 per cent of what it was in 1939.

Prices and living costs soared but when inflation threatened the country, the Germans got around it by banning use of the word!

NORWAY: This maritime nation's past prosperity was dependent upon world contacts. Luckily, about five-sixths of her ships were reported in ports outside Norway at the time of German invasion.

When the Germans rolled in on April 9, 1940, food reserves were not large and Norway always had relied heavily upon imported foods. As food became scarcer, black markets developed. The Germans requisitioned most of what fishing craft there was upon landing.

The Nazis dominated foreign trade dealings and took increased amounts of fish, wood pulp, paper, lumber and mineral products. Germany failed to provide many things she promised in return: Coal, artificial textile materials, machinery and chemical products.

THE NETHERLANDS: Company experts report decreasing activity in almost every industry. Pressure on labor became almost unendurable and gradually the situation in paper and lumber markets grew critical. Fats are almost unobtainable and the tobacco market is at a standstill.

Consumer goods decreased throughout 1943. Cotton mill output has been reduced to 14 per cent of the prewar figure as were these production figures: weaving, down 22 per cent; bicycles, 38; cigars, nine, margarine, 50, and shoes, 80.

The national debt under occupation since May 10, 1940, increased from 3,527,000,000 guilders ($1,900,000,000) to an estimated 11,000,000,000 guilders ($6,000,000,000) in early 1944—chiefly due to occupation costs. By 1942 dividend payments were pared by 50 per cent and 335 firms closed down in a year.

The Once Over

The Ideal American

He don't go much for microphones—
He's not the type to spout.
He seldom talks in undertones
And knows what he's about.
He ain't no man for toss'n nets—
He scorns the playin' fields
He's got but one ambition that's
To get the job done right!

II

He don't go yellin' for the press
To keep him in the news.
In fact, it's a num'rous distress
When publicity's so profuse.
He never names his point—
He takes no "public pulse";
To outguess boys he's the first . . .
He's got one aim: RESULTS!

III

When others talk he don't much care
If his views don't get heard.
He knows no sharp pain everywhere
When he can't say a word;
No half-baked judgements does he air
To any waiting mob;
He thinks he's doin' pretty fair
If he just does HIS job.

IV

He don't pop off most every day
With notions far from ripe.
No notice drives his poise away . . .
He ain't no newsreel type!
While shoutin' is the general rule
And oratory's loose,
He does a turn at keeping cool
And knows one word—"PRODUCE!"

V

If he ain't quoted it's okay—
He lets the others rave:
Around the "mikes" he loathes to play,
No clippings does he save!
He just ain't after anything
Like fame or prestige grand;
He only seeks one task to swing—
The current JOB IN HAND!

VI

When Washington is in a mess
And rows bust out anew
It don't annoy him much, I guess,
If he ain't yellin', too;
He hasn't got an ax to grind—
At no man is he sore . . .
Bill only has one thing in mind,
And that's to WIN A WAR!

Garden Pests

BY TRUMAN TWILL

The garden pests have started — not the aphids, cut worms, nor the beetles, blights, mites and rabbits, but the homegrown pests who can tell bigger lies.

We will put all our cards on the table, if they will do the same. We will admit our garden is the size of an efficiency apartment living room with a service pantry and a foldup bed, if they will admit they have bitten off more than they can comfortably hoe.

We will admit when we talk about early peas and onions, radishes and lettuce that we are speaking not of mass production but a couple of short rows, if they will admit they planted more than they know what to do with.

We will admit that when we speak knowingly of applying fertilizer we are referring to an operation carried on with an old tin can, if they will quit giving the impression that a trainload of fertilizer was backed up on a nearby siding and dumped on their garden.

We will admit that when we speak smugly of planting some more garden last night we have in mind a simple operation which entailed opening a package of seeds and sprinkling same in a crooked row, if they will quit talking about walking for miles up and down geometrically patterned rows and sowing seeds scientifically by the bushel.

We will admit that when we mention offhand, "Well, we had our first mess of peas last night," what we mean is there were 157 small peas huddled in the bottom of a stew pan and divided in equal portions so small they got lost on the plate, if they will admit the yield from their acres and acres of peas was so tremendous they got sick of eating the things.

We will admit that when visitors inspect our garden, they shuffle their feet and say, with no enthusiasm, "That sure is a little dandy" — with emphasis on the little—if they will quit trying to persuade us that photographers for Life magazine have been to see their gardens in order to convince the nation there will be more than enough to eat for the next 12 months.

We will confess that everything about our gardening is allputian, if they will lay off the guff about the gargantuan proportions of everything about theirs.

We will come right out and say, in fact, that we are an ordinary Victory Gardener plugging around in his own back yard, if they will come right out and say they have gone into the truck gardening business and, therefore, are no longer qualified to boast in the Victory Garden league.

So They Say—

The Japanese soldier knows how to die but is fanatic and brave, he obeys commands explicitly and he is a tricky opponent. He is also stupid.—Lt. Col. Henry L. Shafer, back from Bougainville.

The public has taken one word, jobs, as a single package containing higher standards of living, physical well-being, and all the hopes and fears of the future.—Frederick C. Crawford, chairman National Association of Manufacturers.

We should not wait until everything is over and then go hat in hand to the peace table, asking for things we won't get. Let's get them now while the getting is good.—Rep. Earl R. Lewis of Ohio.

The backbone of both Germany's world wars has been the German chemical industry, and my simple proposal is that she shall make no more explosives of any sort.—Lord Vansittart.

Study Plan To Drain Pool in Hunt for Body

Special to The Star

KENTON, May 17—Blanchard township trustees today expressed favor to a plan to pump the Dunkirk quarry dry to determine if George Benjamin Hager, 22, is dead in its waters. If the plan is decided upon, volunteers will man a huge pump at the quarry and keep it in operation day and night, it was explained. There were no estimates on how long it would take to pump the water from the 50-acre pool, which ranges in depth from 40 to 70 feet.

Hager had been missing from his home at nearby Dunkirk since Tuesday night, May 9. Previous efforts to locate his body in the quarry, including use of grappling hooks, a professional diver and dynamite have failed. Officials said there was no definite information leading them to believe the youth had drowned in the quarry.

HEALTH QUIZ

	YES	NO
Do you have poor digestion?
Do you feel headachy after eating?
Do you get sour or upset easily?
Do you feel tired—fistless?

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat—you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice—liver bile—each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested, lie sour and heavy within you.

Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands—often in as little as thirty minutes. When bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better—which is what you're after.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's, taken as directed, aid digestion after Nature's own order. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today—only 25¢. You'll be glad you did.

Educational Provision Delays G. I. Measure

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 17—A controversy over whether all or just some veterans should be afforded government-financed educational opportunities was the main obstacle today in the path of house action on the "G. I. bill of rights," an overall veterans' benefit measure.

On the outcome depended whether the bill would be passed tomorrow as scheduled and returned to the senate for action on amendments.

The education controversy was left in mid-air by adjournment yesterday after brief debate. It was precipitated by an amendment offered by Chairman Sabath (D-N.C.) to remove a proviso limiting the education opportunities to veterans whose schooling was interrupted by war service or who could demonstrate the need for a one-year refresher course because of their military service.

CHARGE PHYSICIAN PLANNED MURDER

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 17—Federal prosecutors in the murder trial of Robert I. Miller, 57-year-old Washington attorney, summoned additional witnesses today in an effort to prove the killing of Dr. John E. Lind, 57, last Feb. 21 was premediated.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Peter S. Greco, the government's first witness, testified he heard Miller tell Dr. Lind to "keep away from that girl" two months before the noted psychiatrist was shot to death seated in his automobile beside Miller's 42-year-old wife outside a downtown department store.

Greco said Miller approached Lind in a corridor of the district court building last December and shouted, "I'm telling you for the last time to stay away from that girl."

Lind replied "Aw, go to hell," the witness related. The "girl" referred to was not identified.

Miller suffered a fainting spell and interrupted the trial briefly yesterday as witnesses were describing how the attorney kept watch for his wife in the store just before the shooting.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Charles B. Murray told the jury of 11 men and a woman in an opening statement the government would show that Miller went to the store expecting to find his wife and Dr. Lind together.

FIREMEN AT GALION ASK ANOTHER RAISE

Special to The Star

GALION, May 17—A request was received by city council, Tuesday night, from the Galion Fire Fighters union asking that council grant firemen a straight 10 per cent increase in salaries (approximately five cents per hour), because council's action at the last meeting provided for a $5 a month increase which amounts to only one and six-tenths cents per hour increase. The fire fighters stated that this would not be sufficient to cover increased cost of living. The request was referred to the finance committee.

City solicitor and auditor were requested in a motion made by council to notify bonding houses to submit bids by June 1 in the amount of $350,000 for the water works improvement.

An ordinance passed by council provides for the issuance of bonds for the purpose of raising money in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for improvements made to certain streets of the city. The bonds will have an estimated life of five years, maximum maturity of 25 years.

Another ordinance passed provides that all men and women in the armed forces be admitted to Heise Park swimming pool at only 25 cents per single admission.

SLAV GROUP BACKS FATHER ORLEMANSKI

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 17—With his pastoral authority restored following a promise to "cease and separate myself from all activities which are not in accord with the rule and mind of the Catholic church," ailing Rev. Stanislaus Orlemanski today was cheered by the announced support of the American Slav congress of Connecticut.

Ben Tutens, executive secretary of the organization which he said represented "thousands of American Slavs" in Connecticut, praised Fr. Orlemanski for his recent visit to the kremlin and denounced certain local critics for their attitude in the matter.

In a statement released by Tutens, Fr. Orlemanski's flying trip to Moscow where he twice conferred with Marshal Stalin was termed "one of the milestones on the road to the new world which humanity is striving for day after day in its life and death struggle against the common foe."

Meanwhile Fr. Orlemanski remained in bed under the care of his physician who on Monday reported the priest was "on the verge of a complete physical and mental breakdown."

The four-day-old suspension was lifted unexpectedly yesterday by the Most Rev. Thomas H. O'Leary, bishop of Springfield, on receipt of a letter of apology.

Good Fruit Crop in Sight in Marion Co.

Good fruit crops are in store for Marion county residents owning fruit trees, Arthur H. Smith, county farm agent, said today.

Late blooming conditions which have prevailed in other sections also are the general rule in this county, he stated. The delay in blooming usually means less chance of frost damage. Barring hard rains through the blooming season, the crop should be good.

Although Marion county does not produce fruit on a large commercial scale, several sizable apple orchards in the area should profit by the favorable conditions, Mr. Smith said. The blooming season for Marion county has already passed for pear and apple blossoms and since there are no peach orchards here growers will not be affected. Peach, plum and cherry trees come into full bloom about May 7.

The unusually heavy blossoms on Ohio trees this year were given by an authority as a natural result of light blooming last year. The trees go through a cycle of light and heavy blooming. Unfavorable weather conditions at this time last year also took their toll of blossoms.

critical industries in Germany and might cost the lives of bombing crews through lack of sufficient fighter plane protection.

"We of the military forces," he declared, "are not interested in the relative merits of the dispute, but it is inconceivable from our point of view how you can have strikes which stop war production on materials which are so essential they may even stop operations in connection with the bombings in Germany."

Speaking rapidly, the general said the war production involved was so essential the strikes might even affect invasion operations.

Fighter planes determine the success or failure of some missions and how far the bombers can go into Germany, he said.

"These strikes make it impossible for me to meet my obligation," Arnold declared. "How can I furnish fighters when they are needed at the time they are needed when there are strikes. That will require me to change my plans.

"Must I cut down on the strength of bombers sent into Germany and change the timetable for the destruction of critical industries in Germany? Must I tell the bombing crews that I cannot furnish them fighter protection, they must have with their bombers. Fighters determine the life or death of crews of bombers."

The air force chief said that since its inception the strike had cost the U. S. Air force an estimated 250 P-51 fighters.

Two CIO Groups Back Fourth Roosevelt Term

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 17—Two national CIO labor groups, claiming a membership of some five million members, were on record today urging that President Roosevelt become a candidate for a fourth term.

The labor organizations, the CIO political action committee and the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America (CIO), expressed their formal approval that Mr. Roosevelt seek reelection in meetings here yesterday.

A statement saying "the overwhelming majority of CIO's five million members * * * have called upon the President to run again" was issued after the committee's meeting, which was attended by CIO President Philip Murray, Chairman Sidney Hillman and other members.

magazines, books, plays and movies.

Ade was best known perhaps for his satirics) "Fables in Slang," the first of which appeared in 1897, 10 years after his graduation from Purdue university, where the Ross-Ade stadium bears his name.

His newspaper career began in LaFayette at $6 a week. He moved to Chicago to join the staff of the Morning News and his fraternity brother, Cartoonist John T. McCutcheon, who once said their salaries could never quite catch up with their debts.

Later he went to work for the Chicago Record, where his foible-laden character sketches on "Artie," "Pink Marsh" and "Doc Horne" began appearing in 1895.

The much-anthologized fables followed, and then a series of stage comedies, including "The Sultan of Sulu" and "The College Widow." Ade wrote silent film scenarios from 1921 to 1925.

He never had married and in one of his latest essays, "The Boys of Single Blessedness," he upheld bachelorhood in no uncertain terms.

Ade belonged to a period which saw Indiana's most brilliant literary stars in the ascendant—among them Booth Tarkington and Meredith Nicholson, who have outlived their friend.

He died in a rented house in Brook, seven miles from his native Kentland and near his farm home, Hazeldon.

A sister, Mrs. Warren T. McCray of Kentland, widow of a former Indiana governor, survives, as well as several nieces and nephews.

PRESIDENT GREETS DELEGATES TO ILO

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 17—The right of all peoples "to material well being and spiritual development under conditions of freedom and * * * economic security" constitute a central aim of our international policy, President Roosevelt said today.

Greeting delegates to the recent international labor organization conference at Philadelphia, the President quoted from a conference declaration which said "poverty anywhere constitutes a danger to prosperity everywhere," and declared:

"This principle is a guide to all of our international economic deliberations."

The ILO declaration, the President stated, "sums up the aspirations of an epoch which has known two World wars. I confidently believe that future generations will look back upon it as a landmark in world thinking. I am glad to have this opportunity of indorsing its specific terms on behalf of the United States. I trust, also, that within a short time its specific terms will be wholeheartedly indorsed by all of the nations."

TUMULT DISRUPTS CONSPIRACY TRIAL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 17—Fresh verbal uproar, requiring the calling of U. S. marshals, broke out in federal district court today as Chief Prosecutor O. John Rogge sought to begin his statement of the government's case against 29 persons charged with conspiring to establish a Nazi form of government in this country.

Rogge made three starts—"May it please the court—" but each time the shouting of defense attorneys seeking to make statements drowned him out. Lawyers were jumping up on all sides demanding to be heard.

"Mr. Rogge may proceed," he said.

When the tumult continued, the trial judge ordered marshals to "restore order and require all attorneys except Mr. Rogge to be seated."

Plenty of Thrills in China's Latest Drive on Enemy

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

You don't have to wait for D-day, if you're looking for martial romance and brave adventure, for you'll find them both in the latest effort of the Chinese to pull themselves out of the Japanese toils by the straps of their battle-worn boots.

That's the Salween river offensive in southwest China—one of the world's wild, primordial areas. The purpose of the drive is to restore China's land lifeline to India—the famous Burma road which, on its Chinese end, was hewed out through the mountain fastnesses largely with primitive tools in the hands of a host of men, women and children after the enemy had occupied their country's ports.

This column previously has cited the grave danger to China created by the powerful Nipponese offensive along the Yellow river in the heart of the nation. This threatens Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's remaining slender resources.

China's Problem Now

China's problem is how to stand off this menace pending arrival of all-out Allied help. In order to hang on she must have supplies. Her only feasible communication with the outside world is by air to India. Aerial transport is moving much material but she's in dire need of heavy equipment, like artillery, and that calls for ground transport, which means a highway to India.

So the celestials are seeking to solve their problem by an offensive with upwards of 20,000 men across the great Salween river, near where it crosses into Japanese held northern Burma. The objective is to drive the invaders out of that zone, in cooperation with other Allied troops operating from bases in northwest India. That will permit a joining up of the severed end of the old Burma road in China with the new Ledo road which American engineers built up through India and then extended a considerable distance into the northern tip of Burma.

Race Against Time

This Allied offensive, of which the Salween drive has become a part, is racing against time to complete the operation before the arrival of the monsoon deluge which is due shortly and will flood the country until autumn. If the Allies can evict the enemy quickly they may be able to effect a junction of the two roads before the monsoon gets too bad.

It's a vital effort for the cause of the United Nations. When we talk of restoring China's "lifeline" we don't use the phrase lightly. The Burma road—inadequate as it was to meet demands—was the isolated country's main artery. The Allies can't get along without China in the war against Japan.

The Chinese offensive across the Salween is a bold undertaking. This river is one of the longest in that part of the world. It rises in Tibet and winds on through China and into Burma for over 1,500 miles. For much of the way it flows through gorges thousands of feet deep, and it was by bridge across one of these terrifying canyons that the Burma road used to pass.

The Chinese crossed the river at one of the open stretches, using small boats of all sorts. It was a dangerous feat, for the Japanese were holding the western bank. However, the Chinese battled their way ashore on a wide front and heavy fighting has been proceeding.

They must drive perhaps 75 miles through wild mountain country to reach the Burmese border. Then they presumably will aim at the neighboring base of Myitkyina (pronounced Mich-in-In-Auer for unknown reasons) towards which our General Joseph Stilwell—he of the square jaw—is driving from the northwest with his American and Chinese troops. Several British contingents also are converging on this base, which is the railhead for the Mandalay railroad and is the main source of supplies for the Japanese.

Capture of this base would force withdrawal of the enemy from the northern tip of Burma.

GERMANS EXPECT HEAVY RED ATTACK

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 17 — German broadcasts indicated today the Nazis are expecting an early resumption of large scale Soviet attacks on the Lwow-Kovel and northern Romanian fronts, where the Russians were reported massing strength, but a Moscow communique told only of localized action on the lower Dnestr and in an undisclosed sector.

A military correspondent for DNB said the Soviet attacks could be expected "in the very near future."

The Russians declared German attacks were hurled back northwest of Tiraspol on the lower Dnestr with "heavy losses" to the enemy. In another sector a Soviet tank unit "carried out a successful operation," killing 400 Germans, the Moscow communique said.

Soviet airmen, continuing blows which both sides have said is a prelude to a large scale Red army offensive, heavily bombed the Nazi-held city of Polotsk, near the Latvian-Polish border and on the Riga rail line, the Russian war bulletin said.

The communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor, said military stores and enemy trains at Polotsk were destroyed and many fires started.

Escaped Prisoner Returned To Ohio Reformatory Today

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., May 17—William Miller was returned to the Ohio State reformatory yesterday ... handcuffs.

The 39-year-old war worker who walked away from the prison 10 years ago became the center of a controversy last week when a Pittsburgh judge objected to the use of handcuffs and chains in returning Miller to Ohio. He escaped in 1929 after serving six months of a years sentence for illegal transportation of an automobile.

Judge Alexander Cooper freed Miller in Pittsburgh last week when the officer sought to handcuff and chain the prisoner in the courtroom, preparatory to returning him to Ohio.

Miller had waived extradition but the judge declared use of the manacles on a man who had surrendered voluntarily and offered to go back was "not proper police tactics."

The judge later reversed himself after Miller signed a second waiver and Supt. Arthur L. Glattke of the reformatory criticized freeing of Miller.

Glattke contended the court had no jurisdiction in the case, since Miller had waived extradition. Glattke asserted the chain to which the judge objected was "not too uncomfortable, light or heavy."

The Ohio officer who picked up Miller at Pittsburgh yesterday agreed not to use manacles.

"I wish you luck," Judge Cooper called as Miller was led from the courtroom.

He was sentenced originally from Cuyahoga county.

STRONG PLATFORM URGED BY BRICKER

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 17—The Republican party, in adopting a platform at its national convention in Chicago next month, must take issue with the New Deal, and "give the people something to decide," Gov. Bricker asserts.

Bricker, a candidate for the party's presidential nomination told Ohio's delegates and alternates to the convention last night the G.O.P. could not win in November if it adopted a "me, too," attitude toward the New Deal.

Ninety of the 100 delegates and alternates—all pledged to support Bricker—met with the governor at a dinner.

"I am going to insist that our platform in Chicago shall take issue with the New Deal. We must give the people something to decide. It cannot be done by shouting: 'Me, too,'" Bricker declared.

He expressed the opinion "the election will be decided in the great Mississippi valley." He did not elaborate, but Bricker spokesmen said he no doubt referred to the mid-western states.

Bricker asserted he favored internationalism but not at the expense of this country.

"Our boys are not fighting for any internationalism which jeopardizes our own national interests," he said. "They are not fighting for secret agreements."

At the governor's suggestion the delegation named U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft as the Ohio member of the resolutions committee which will draw up the national platform. Miss Albina Cermak of Cleveland was selected as the state's woman member if the convention approves the proposal for equal representation of women on the committee.

Bricker also proposed State Republican Chairman Ed D. Scherr as chairman of the Ohio delegation. The nomination was approved unanimously.

LIMA MAN GUILTY IN 1912 SLAYING

By The Associated Press

HINTON, W. Va., May 17—Joe Gore, 60-year-old, Lima, O., Negro, yesterday was found guilty of second degree murder in the Christmas eve slaying of Thomas Agee 32 years ago.

Agee was killed at a party at Cashier's mill, near Beckley.

The verdict carries a possible sentence of from five to 15 years. The jury deliberated only 10 minutes.

A defense motion to set aside the verdict was to be argued today before Summers County Circuit Judge Mark L. Jarrett.

Gore disappeared after the shooting and under the name of Thomas Mann was employed as a steel foundry worker at Lima. He was extradited to Hinton after an anonymous letter from Lima told that the elderly Negro had spoken of the slaying.

Gore claimed self - defense. Eleven others testified Gore fired to protect himself, asserting Agee had a gun.

Nine state witnesses, among them eyewitnesses and Agee's 90-year-old father, said Agee was unarmed.

REDS PARTICIPATE IN DIPLOMATIC PLAN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 17—Full Russian participation in political arrangements for the final military drives into Nazi-controlled Europe appear today to be an accomplished fact.

Ranking American diplomatists regard the three-power collaboration thus achieved as a considerable step toward harmonious cooperation among the United States, Britain and Russia for creation of a permanent United Nations organization in the reasonably near future.

Disclosure of agreements between the allied powers and the exiled governments of Norway, Belgium and the Netherlands for civil administration of their European areas furnished the latest example of Russian cooperation in pre-invasion diplomacy.

In the case of Norway the agreement was made jointly by this country, Russia and Britain. In the cases of Belgium and the Netherlands the arrangements were entered into by the U. S. and Britain with Russia specifically approving the actions.

Giants Score Four Runs In 12th To Defeat Marion, 11 to 8

Last Contest in Springfield Series at Park Tonight.

By CHARLES ELLIOTT

MARION'S Ohio State leaguers saw a golden opportunity to move out of the loop cellar slip by as they dropped an 11 to 8 extra-inning decision to the Springfield Giants in the second game of their current series at Lincoln park last night before 182 paying patrons.

After they had twice surged from behind to knot the score, the Marion pitchers, through a combination of some porous fielding and consistent Springfield hitting, wound up three runs behind the Giants, who rallied for two counters in the twelfth and final inning. The game was the first extra-inning affair played by the Marion team this season. It was [illegible] an exceedingly long contest, lasting 2 hours and 51 minutes, as compared with the brevity of the preceding evening's Springfield-Marion tilt, which was played in one hour and 20 minutes.

Ray Wilgamot's Springfield squad showed across four tallies on three hits and a Marion error in the twelfth to tack up their fifth win of the season against seven losses. Marion, with four victories in 13 starts, is still in last place, and trailing the fifth spot Giants by two games.

Game Here Tonight

Tonight on the Lincoln park diamond, Grover Hartley's locals, enlivened and strengthened by the arrival of still more talent from other minor league camps, will attempt to take the rubber game of the three-contest series with Springfield. Marion won Monday night, 3 to 1, on a home run with two men on base by Virl Minnis, ninth hitter. Tonight's game, which will start at 6 o'clock, will be the last home appearance of the local squad until next Tuesday, when they trade hits and runs with the Zanesville Dodgers at Lincoln park. Tomorrow, they invade White field, Newark, for return conflicts with the Moundsmen of that community. The series with Newark will extend through Saturday. Springfield is again Marion's foe Sunday, when a doubleheader is scheduled for the Springfield park. Another Marion-Giant game is on tap for Monday. This will end the Hartleymen's five-day road trip.

Six pitchers displayed their mound wares in last night's lengthy tussle—three for each team. Credited with the win for Springfield was Dick Devine, right hander, who came in with one out and two men on the sacks in the last of the tenth. Big Eric Schultz, who stifled Newark with one run on four hits Sunday afternoon, was charged with his first loss of the campaign. He hurled the last four innings for Marion and was on the hill when the four Springfield runs crossed the plate in the last inning. Other Marion pitchers were Francis "Red" Bailey, who started, and Bob Dennany, small left hander formerly property of the Lima Red Birds. These boys also toiled four stanzas apiece. Bill Ireland, a flighty left hander, started the game for Springfield but didn't last long. He was taken out by Manager Wilgamot after walking the first three men to face him. Burgone, a right hand chucker, worked 10-1/3 innings for the Giants and gave up eight hits.

Earned Runs

Springfield bested the locals in actual run count but in earned runs, which sometimes proves to be a pitcher's bread and butter, Marion had a big edge. The locals had seven earned runs and only three Springfield tallies were earned. Eight Marion errors didn't figure negligibly in the Springfield triumph. It's doubtful Springfield would have won had Marion afforded average support for its three pitchers. The Marion players without a doubt realized they will have to reclaim their fielding form before the locals can be considered a serious threat to first division Ohio State league honors.

Pitcher Devine opened the monstrous Springfield twelfth by striking out. Lead off man Tomlinson, second baseman, was safe on an error by George Whidden, substitute Marion second sacker. Shortstop Simpson walked. Johnny Carenbauer, centerfielder, singled, scoring Tomlinson, Simpson going to third. Carenbauer went to second on a throw home. First Baseman Van Loon grounded out, Second Baseman Whidden to First Sacker Malcolm Gregory. Simpson came home on the play. Bollick, left fielder, singled to score Carenbauer. Bollck stole second and Danes, next batter, doubled to right field, driving in Bollick. Smith was safe on another error by Whidden. Shortly thereafter he was thrown out old attempting to steal. Catcher Joe Bellamy to Shortstop Bob McDonald.

Bellamy Homers

Again that pitcher-wilting slugging trio—Joe Bellamy, Virl Minnis and Bob McDonald, who bat two, three and four in that order, supplied the spark that almost catapulted Marion to victory. Bellamy connected for his second home run of the season in the fifth when he belted the ball far over the left field fence. He was the first man up in that inning and his blow provided the only local tally of the frame.

McDonald again proved his worth as clean-up man with two hits, a single and double, and three runs batted in. Minnis, who was the hero of the Springfield opener Monday night, got two for four last night, a one-bagger and a double. He batted in two runs. Probably the longest hit ball of the game was smashed by Irving Burkwitt, strong armed Marion centerfielder, in the last of the twelfth inning, when Marion belatedly tried to again tie the score. This drive almost hit the center field fence, some 400-odd feet away, for a triple.

Marion took a three-run lead in the first inning after Starting Pitcher Ireland filled the sacks by bases on balls. McDonald doubled scoring two runs and Warren Blunt flied to left, scoring Minnis from third. Springfield also counted in the first. Tomlinson walked, went to second on a fielder's choice and was advanced to third on Carenbauer's single. He came home on an error by Mike Fatatic, starting Marion shortstop.

Springfield came back to add a run in the third and two in the

LOU BOUDREAU FINDS ANOTHER STARTING PITCHER IN GROMEK

Indians Forgotten Man Masters Nats After Reynolds Gives Winning Runs.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 17—Manager Lou Boudreau had one consolation today as he grappled with the problem of routing his Cleveland Indians out of a six-game losing streak.

It was the knowledge that he had found another starting pitcher in Steve Gromek, a former infielder who virtually had become a forgotten man among the Indians.

The 24-year-old recruit right hander shut out the Washington Nationals with two singles for three runs in two-thirds of an inning—enough to fashion a 3 to 2 victory.

Gromek's brilliant performance was wasted, however, because the Tribesmen couldn't solve the offerings of Milt Haefner, a pint-sized southpaw knuckle-baller. They secured only six hits and their scoring was confined to the fourth inning when Pat Seery singled with the bases full to drive in two runs.

The Nats secured all their runs off Allie Reynolds in the opening. Reynolds, displaying the poorest form of his major league career, pitched to six batters. Five of them connected with sharp singles which, coupled with a pair of wild pitches, gave the Nats the three tallies they needed to win the game. Gromek came to the mound and ended the inning by disposing of Mike Guerra and for the rest of the game allowed only one Nat to reach second base and none to get to third.

Blue Jays Make First Cincy Visit

CINCINNATI, May 17 — The Philadelphia Blue Jays play the first of a three game series with the Cincinnati Reds here today.

It marks the first trip of the season into the Queen City for the Blue Jays—formerly known as the Phillies.

The Reds finished up a most unusual four-game series with the Boston Braves yesterday, bowing to a 1 to 0 decision, in the first morning game of the year.

Both teams ended with a pair of shutouts apiece, but it was the Reds who made marks in the history books on Clyde Shoun's no-hitter Monday, and Bucky Walters' equally-thrilling one-hitter the day before—a game which saw only one Boston batsman reach first.

Yesterday both teams got six hits each. Boston had two hits together in the second inning along with a sacrifice and a long fly and got the only run off Ed Heusser, Cincinnati pitcher.

In the ninth the Reds got half their six hits but failed to score. Instead of his usual procedure of "playing the percentage," Manager Bill McKechnie ordered Eric Tipton to hit instead of sacrifice after Frank McCormick opened the ninth with a single. Tipton promptly grounded into a double play. Eddie Miller and Chuck Aleno followed with singles but Al Javery, replacing Nate Andrews on the Boston mound, made Ray Mueller bounce into a force play and there you have it.

INDIANAPOLIS WINS 4TH STRAIGHT GAME

By The Associated Press

The American Association's worm-turning antics continued yesterday as Indianapolis' tail-end Indians scored their fourth consecutive victory after snapping a 14-game losing streak Sunday, whipping Kansas City, 6 to 4.

At the top of the ladder Milwaukee dropped its second game in a row, after compiling a 12-game victory chain, as Louisville won 7 to 6 on a ninth inning run resulting from Frank Genovese' base on balls and Earl Brown's three-base hit. It was the first defeat of the season for the Brewers' Julio Acosta. Relief Pitcher Al Widmar was the winner.

St. Paul executed the league's first triple play of the year against Toledo, but the Mudhens stacked a 17-hit assault behind Al Seinsoth's effective pitching for a 6 to 1 victory—their only one in the four-game set.

Columbus' Red Birds closed the gap between themselves and the league-leading Brewers to five games by taking their third of the four-game set from Minneapolis, 5 to 3. Young LeRoy Pfund was the winning pitcher, although he needed assistance from Joe Lapatka in the late innings.

A two-run rally in the ninth climaxed a long uphill climb for Indianapolis as they swept its series with Kansas City by virtue of yesterday's 6 to 4 decision. Five errors behind pitcher Don Johnson contributed to Kansas City's defeat.

Lanier Won't Know Until June Whether Win Streak Is Broken

By The Associated Press

The National league needed two sets of books to keep its records straight today with the first unfinished game of the 1944 season leaving Max Lanier's five-game win streak hanging in the balance until sometime in the week of June 5th.

Although Lanier was belted from the box in the fourth and the Phils led 8-4 when hostilities ceased at the end of the seventh by agreement to let Freddy Fitzsimmons catch a train for Cincinnati, the game was not entered into the books. It will be completed when the Phils again visit St. Louis in June. Then Lanier's streak will be either snapped and the Red Birds will have a chance to come up with three runs.

Pip Sewell's 11-game streak was interrupted under similar circumstances last season, when the elongated hill expert was seven in a row, took part in an incomplete game and then won four more. When the unfinished game was played two months later, Pittsburgh lost and Sewell was charged with a defeat. It's still a mystery whether Sewell won 11 straight. If Lanier continues to win the same situation can arise.

There was no question about Hank Borowy's holdover 11-game string. Chicago ruined that beyond repair with a 10-4 trouncing of the Yankees as Thurman Tucker boosted his leading average to .393 with four hits.

Philadelphia's Athletics continued to blaze along with eight wins in their last nine. Jojo White's single in the last of the tenth did the trick for a 4-3 decision over Detroit. The A's have won their last six and "Dizzy Joe" Berry has won four games although he pitched but 12 innings.

Washington got after Allie Reynold early, flattened him for three runs in the first and coasted through to a 3-2 edge over Cleveland last night. Mickey Haefner shackled the Tribe with six singles. Lefty Vic Johnson fell apart in the 12th as St. Louis scored four times to wallop Boston, 7-3.

Although the emphasis was on hitting instead of pitching yesterday, Cincinnati and Boston concluded an all-shutout series at two wins apiece. Boston took the finale, 1-0, with Nate Andrews whitewashing the Reds but needing help from Al Javery in the ninth.

Bill Nicholson's double scoring Ival Goodman in the last of the ninth ruined Brooklyn's bright hopes of victory. The Dodgers routed Chicago Rookie Dale Anderson in the first and led at one stage 5-1 but Curt Davis couldn't stop the Cubs' closing spurt for a 7-6 nod.

The New York-Pittsburgh game was postponed.

MARTINO ANGELO

"TAG TEAM MATCH THURSDAY"

Marion wrestling fans get their wish Thursday night at the armory for the two hour main event will be a tag team match. Rufus Jones and the Black Panther will make up the one team while Tiger Jack Moore and Martino Angelo will be the other team. This looks like the best two combinations ever to wrestle a tag team match in Marion. Not being contented with this swell main attraction Promoter Fishbaugh has returned Jackie Nichols and Red Ryan for the one hour opening match at 8:30. These two battled to a sterling draw in a 45 minute match several weeks ago, and their return match over a longer time limit should be just as good. For advance tickets call Markert & Lewis Cigar Store in Marion.—Ad.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 17—Since the Navy's program to teach every sailor to swim, the Great Lakes, Ill., naval training station is keeping it up with a giant swim meet May 29... Peter Fiedler and Bill Smith will be the home talent; Joe Verme is coming from Philadelphia and the Commodores are hopeful that Alan Ford will join in.

Today's Guest Star

Bill Conkey, Salt Lake Telegram: "What could be more appropriate than having a man named Mamm manage the Cubs . . . ."

A Rookie a Day

Mike Milosevich, Yankees' latest wartime anonymous player who never showed any chance of becoming a major leaguer in seven years as a pitcher, farmhand now is the one player the world champions like the world champions like was hurriedly summoned from Kansas City this week to replace Frank Crosetti... Mike into the lineup after Phil Rizzuto was benched and Crosetti was put to be just the steadying influence the infield needed.... No wonder—he was a steel worker and soft coal miner before he was a ball player and those aren't flighty trades.

Cleaning the Cuff

Lefty Gomez is so busy these days that he has to do his post-game baseball broadcasts from the office. And Ethan Allen has to grab a cab for a quick trip downtown to help him... Harry Kraus, Cleveland bowling alley operator, is running for the state legislature on a platform of using bowling resources (and other sports) to curb juvenile delinquency... Lieut. (JG) Bob Stasi of the Jacksonville naval air station, has two enviable distinctions. He once won a national skeet shooting title and he was the first man to kiss Deanna Durbin on the movie screen... You can guess which is considered more enviable.

North Main Defeats Mark in Tournament

North Main defeated Mark, 11 to 9, yesterday afternoon in a game of the Gray-Y softball tournament sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. The Main Streeters took the lead in the first inning, 2 to 0, but lost it in the second to the Mark Street team which scored seven runs, holding North Main to three. In the third Mark made three runs and North Main made four to bring the score to a tie at 9. North Main's two runs in the last half of the fourth broke the tie and bagged the game.

North Main will play again Thursday when they meet the winner of a contest between Greenwood and Pearl which was scheduled to be played on the Central Junior High diamond at 4:30 this afternoon. This game will decide the upper bracket finalists.

Glenwood defeated Oak Street, 13 to 9, yesterday to win the semi-finals of the lower bracket. Glenwood's big inning was the third in which they scored four runs. Oak made a spurt in the seventh, too late to salvage the game. Glenwood will meet the victor in a contest between the winner of the Greenwood-Pearl game today and North Main Street to decide the city Gra-Y softball championship. The game is scheduled to be played at 4:30 Monday afternoon at the Central Junior High diamond.

EDUCATOR GIVES TALK TO MARION ROTARIANS

Dr. Allen Griffin of O. S. U. Is Club Speaker.

Dr. Allen Griffin of Columbus, was the guest speaker at a meeting of Rotary club yesterday at the Hotel Harding. Dr. Griffin is in the department of education at Ohio State university and the author of a book called, "What Do You Mean—Be Good?" He spoke on this same subject, pointing out the difficulties of teaching children and young adults the proper behavior habits.

Presenting a practical as well as theoretical approach to his subject, Dr. Griffin pointed out that often a child must learn to choose between two good things as well as choosing between good and evil. As an example he gave the conflict often found between truthfulness and politeness. In the United States a child has a wide range of what is right and this fact often tends to make set moral standards impossible, he said. Following his talk, Dr. Griffin answered many questions asked by his audience.

Guests at the meeting were Harold C. Jordahl of Findlay and William Beam.

A posthumous award of an Air medal and two oak leaf clusters to Staff Sgt. Marion Eugene McGinnis will be presented to his father, Ivan T. McGinnis, within the next few days, according to an Associated Press report of a war department announcement today.

Sgt. McGinnis was cited for destroying an enemy aircraft while serving as a crewman on a European bombing mission. May Ask Recount In Stark County Precincts

By The Associated Press

CANTON, O., May 17—Frederick M. Broda, manager of Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert's campaign for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in Stark county, said today "we will probably ask for a recount in some precincts."

The official vote in Stark county gave 80 fewer votes to Mayor James G. Stewart of Cincinnati, the victor in the G. O. P. race. Stewart ran third with Paul Herbert first and Tom Herbert second.

Broda said the recount would be requested because of the confusion of the names of the two Herberts.

"It is very easy to understand that precincts officials in tabulating the results might make mistakes in marking up the votes for Tom and Paul Herbert," he declared.

LARRY ALLEN AMONG TRADED PRISONERS

By The Associated Press

BARCELONA, Spain, May 17—Larry Allen, Associated Press war correspondent and Pulitzer prize winner, was exchanged today after 20 months as a war prisoner of the Italians and Germans.

Allen was assigned to the British Mediterranean fleet and was captured Sept. 15, 1942, during a commando raid on Tobruk in North Africa when the destroyer Sikh, on which he was traveling, was sunk. He was taken to an Italian prison camp near Chieti and later fell into German hands after the Italian armistice. The Germans held him in a prison camp in northwestern Poland.

Before his capture he had covered many battles at sea, including a particularly heavy air attack on the carrier Illustrious in January of 1942. LOOK HERE, MISTER!

Let's You and I Have Just A Little Chat

I know you are anxious to do all you can to help in the war effort.

Maybe that's because your son or your brother is in the service.

Or maybe it's because you are just a good American, realizing that your country needs your help.

So, you have saved tin cans and scrap paper and gasoline and tires. You gave your blood and your money to the Red Cross.

You did all those things cheerfully and unselfishly and you still want to do more.

Well, Sir, I'm going to ask you to do a little more, but—I'm not going to ask you to donate your service—we pay you for it.

You know that we can't fight this war all over the world without food, lots and lots of food, more and more meat, milk.

Now surely, you also know that in order to produce more food we first have to produce more Feed.

We are trying to do that very thing here at Old Fort Mills, but we need more help.

We need help because many of our men have entered the Armed Services.

We need help because the Government asks us to produce more and still more of our products.

So, we have figured out a way for you to help out in this vital war work.

To do this we have just installed a new feed line at a cost of many thousands of dollars, now we are unable to operate this department till we get more help.

We need several full time workers, unskilled men which we can train but we can also use part time worker.

We want you to work for us for only three hours in the evening, from six to nine o'clock, and on Saturday. You don't even have to work every evening or on Saturday, if that is not convenient for you; we will be glad to arrange to suit your convenience.

We want you to help us unload cars of soybeans, corn and other ingredients used in our plants.

And, we will pay you—pay you well for this work we ask you to do.

Here is your chance to help the war effort and incidentally to help yourself.

BUYING MAKES MODERATE GAIN

Leaders Up Fractions and Specialties Record 1 to 2 Point Advances.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 17—A moderate pickup in buying today boosted the general run of stock market leaders fractionally and some specialties 1 to around 2 points.

In the early proceedings dealings ran ahead of the previous day, but even with this improvement activity remained on a restricted scale in most stocks. Encountering no selling of importance, the key issues ruled at about best levels near the fourth hour.

Market street railway preferred jumped nearly 3 points in the first hour then fell back a bit. The move was coincident with publication of returns on yesterday's voting in San Francisco which approved municipal acquisition of the property.

Attracting higher bids were U. S. Steel, Republic, U. S. Rubber common and preferred, Sears Roebuck, Johns-Manville, Philip Morris, Southern Railway, Gulf, Mobile & Ohio, Standard Oil (NJ) and Monsanto.

Bonds were steady and commodities lower.

Higher in the curb were Cities Service, American Gas, Carrier Corp. and Aluminum of America.

RYE PRICES BREAK MORE THAN 2 CENTS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 17—Rye prices broke more than 2 cents at times today, reaching new lows for the year, as selling came into the pit from commission houses. The weakness in rye influenced other grains and December contracts of both wheat and oats were down about a cent. December barley was off around 2 cents.

Weakness of rye at Winnipeg was a factor in creating liquidation in this market. Primary receipts of rye at 12 principal terminals today totaled 341,000 bushels against 12,000 bushels a week ago and 74,000 bushels a year ago. Rye was supported early on local short-covering, but when this demand was satisfied the market reversed its trend and showed little ability to rally.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

Mother Graham looked at me in quick alarm at the blindfolded man's harsh question. Then, as I nodded reassuringly to her, and put my fingers to my lips, she resumed her study of his features as calmly as if he had not made the disturbing interruption.

"It is someone of the household here," I answered. "There will be others soon. I want everybody connected with this house to be able to recognize you again. And it will do you no good to protest. You will save your breath—and your energy—by keeping quiet."

I beckoned Mother Graham away and signaled Katie to return to her post. Then, with my hand under my mother-in-law's elbow, I escorted her to the living room.

"I can see there's no use trying to keep them from distinguishing footfalls. I am sure Hugh was successful in camouflaging his, and he probably will devise some way to keep them from recognizing Lee Chow's. And of course they are the important ones. Under no circumstances must these men suspect that Hugh and Lee Chow are here."

She nodded understandingly, and we went into the living room where Jim was standing, his shotgun near his hand and his eyes fixed upon the two bound, blindfolded and recumbent figures just beyond him.

I repeated the procedure I had used in the library, and when the men had turned over, my mother-in-law searched their faces as keenly as she had that of the man in the library. This time, although the heads of both men turned alertly as she came near them, they did not speak, and when Mother Graham gave me a nod signifying that she had finished, I took her out of the room, closing the door behind us.

"You're all right to go upstairs now?" I queried.

"Indeed yes," she answered. "I'm crazy to get upstairs to Faith. If she would wake up and find that door locked, she'd be frightened."

Angry, Not Frightened

I silently told myself that my dauntless little daughter in all probability would be tempestuously angry instead of frightened. But, prudently, I did not voice my conviction. Instead, I gave Faith's anxious grandmother an encouraging pat on the shoulder.

"I'm sure she's still asleep," I said. "The key is in the lock, so you won't have any trouble with it. And as soon as this performance is over, I'll come up and tell you everything that's happened."

"See that you do," she said with a smile, and then she started up the stairs while I went to the store room where Charlie Kent and the boys were waiting.

I knew that Charlie Kent and Junior were by now conversant with what Roderick could tell them of the intruders we had bound, and that on the way over from their house, Sam and Jerry Ticer's excited voices would pour out the story to Mrs. Ticer. So there was no need for me to enter into any explanations, something for which I was truly thankful.

"Boys," I said abruptly as I came into the store room, "I have two tasks for you. One is to stand at the kitchen door keeping it about an inch ajar on the night chain and admitting Mr. and Mrs. Ticer and Jerry as soon as they come to the door. Then lock it securely again and stay here with the Ticers until somebody comes after you.

"The other boy is to relieve Katie as guard over one of the bound men. Of course, I know that's the task you'd rather have. So you had better toss for it quickly."

"No," Junior said quickly. "I got the last big job, bringing in Mr. Kent through the secret passage. This goes to Rod."

"Aw, no such thing," Rod protested, but I settled the Alphonse and Gaston controversy summarily.

"Rod, you will come with me," I said. "And I shall want you, too, Charlie, if you please. Suppose we all go into the kitchen."

I turned, and they followed me in. Junior at once took his stand by the outside door, unlocking it, and putting it ajar about an inch on the night chain. Charlie Kent and Roderick kept pace with me until I stopped.

Addresses Kent

"I need not ask you if you know how to use a shot gun," I said to Charlie Kent.

"Well, I can get around with one," he drawled. "What do you want me to do with one? Shoot somebody?"

"Not unless your life is in danger," I said curtly. "Here is the situation. As you probably know, we captured four men who pretended to be coast guards by getting the drop on them with Jim's shotgun and two revolvers. Then we bound their hands and feet and blindfolded them. Two of them are in the living room and Jim is standing guard over them, his shot gun near him. I want you to take his place, but I do not want you to speak, as I don't want the men to hear your voice.

"They have very good hearing," I warned, "And they may detect the change. If they speak to you, do not answer them. If they attempt any motion, rap them lightly on an arm or leg with a poker I shall give you."

I turned to Roderick to find his face almost livid with eagerness.

"Will I have a gun too, Auntie Madge?" he asked.

YOUR HEALTH

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Value of Cereals in Diet

"And where," cried Boswell, in one of his rare recorded outbursts of independence, "will you find such horses and such men?" This was in response to Dr. Johnson's sneer that oats were given to horses in England, but in Scotland were food for men. Oh, mairzydoats and Scotzedoats!

Porridge, indeed, was for long the staple, if not the sole article of the Scotch diet. And cereals, such as the oats of porridge, have in many lands been the mainstay of human fuel. The maize, or Indian corn, of the Mexican and Central American population is an example, as well as the rice diet of the Oriental, the millet of Negroes of the upper Nile. Wheat in the form of bread is the staff of life.

From the botanists' point of view the cereals belong to the grasses. In Palestine I have seen wild wheat growing on the hillsides. That was a great day for mankind when some wistful Oriental innovater decided to plow a plot of ground and sow the seeds of the wild wheat, so that he could have it all in one place and gather his winter supply easily instead of wandering over the countryside depending on the accidental bounty of Nature.

What virtues have these cereals that they have become the main or the sole diet of mankind in so many parts of the world?

To begin with they have plenty of protein, and protein is the building block of living structure. Any complete food must have protein. The protein molecule is made up of amino-acids. There are many of these, but 10 have been found to be absolutely indispensable. We know their names and structures. They have never been synthesized in any chemical laboratory. We must depend on Nature for them. Nine of them are necessary to maintain life and one, arginine, is necessary for growth.

The proteins of the cereals are classified as partially complete. They will maintain life, but not growth. The gliadin protein of wheat is in this class, also the hordein of barley, and the prolamin of rye. The zein protein of corn is incapable of maintaining life or growth if fed as the sole protein. In people who live exclusively on a cereal they begin to do so only in early adult life. The milk they get in infancy and childhood supplies the growth factor to start them off; after growth is finished they can live without it—if their protein contains the other factors.

Cereal grains are quite complete in other ways as foods. They have plenty of starch and some fat to supply fuel. They are quite rich in minerals. Oats have calcium (.08), phosphorus (.385), sulphur (.13), and iron (.005). Wheat has calcium (.05), phosphorus (.10), sulphur (.05), and iron (.0005). The figures represent metric percentages. Notice how much richer in mineral content oatmeal would be than bread.

As to vitamins, they are all lacking in C. The Orientals must supplement their rice diet with fresh fruits or greens in order to avoid scurvy. But they are strong in B vitamin, although it is largely in the husk. The widespread occurrence of the vitamin B deficiency disease, beri-beri, or neuritis in Java and Japan, was due to the habit many Oriental people acquired of polishing the rice, which resulted in removing the husk. The cereals have some G vitamin which prevents pellagra, almost no A vitamin.

Oats is a fine breakfast dish because it is the most nutritious of all cereals, being peculiarly rich in fat. Rolling oats is a very advantageous procedure because it ruptures the cell walls, and flattens the grains out so that they are more easily softened by cooking. It also alters the fat so that it is less likely to become rancid and preserves the natural flavor of the grain.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. S.: (1) Is non-removal of benign tumors of the sweat glands in the armpits harmful? (2) Can corns ever become cancerous?

Answer: (1) No. (2) Corns do not turn into cancer, but sometimes what is thought to be a corn is really a cancer from the start.

A. L. L.—A group of us were discussing syphilis last night and one said that he had read that 80 to 90 per cent of the people in the United States were afflicted. Is this true? Can you get it from towels, glasses, etc?

Answer: The highest estimate is that there is 10 per cent of syphilis in the United States. It can not be caught from towels, glasses, etc., because the virus does not live for any length of time away from human tissue. You can catch it only from another person.

Puzzled: What causes Alopecia Areata and is there any cure for it? I have been told there is no cure.

Answer: Alopecia Areata consists of patchy spots of complete baldness. The cause is unknown. The tendency is for spontaneous recovery and no treatment is necessary.

Terry and the Pirates By Milton Caniff

ODD TO FIND AN AMERICAN GIRL IN SUCH AN OUT OF THE WAY PLACE, MISS SAINT LOUIS ... WHY DID THE SINGS IMPRISON YOU?
WHY—AH
THEY MUST HAVE SUSPECTED THAT FLIGHT OFFICER LEE AND I WERE AWARE OF THEIR AXIS ACTIVITIES
YES...
THEY DID NOTHING TO ME WHILE THE U.S. ARMY WAS REPRESENTED—BUT I HID ON THE TOWN WATER TOWER WHEN TERRY WENT AWAY...
FROM THERE I SAW THE PLANE BEARING RUSSIAN MARKINGS TAKE OFF ...THEN, THEY TOOK ME TO THE TUNNEL....
YOU DIDN'T MENTION WHY YOU WERE HERE...
...OH, I WAS BORN IN INDIA—BUT EDUCATED IN THE UNITED STATES... THE CZLBR HERE HIRED ME TO TEACH AMERICAN DANCING TO HIS RETINUE! HE WAS INTERESTED IN THE BOOGOO, OR NATIVE AMERICAN BALLET!
